

LIGHTNING STOPS BORAH'S SPEECH

Address on Canadian Reciprocity Is Cut Short.

NO TIME FOR VOTE AGREED UPON

Effort of Senator Penrose to Appoint July 24 as Date for Ballot on Reciprocity Bill Is Fruitless.

Washington, June 28.—For the first time within the memory of capitol attaches the senate was adjourned by a violent electrical storm with a terrific downpour of rain and hail stones. Senator Borah of Idaho, was addressing the senate when the storm broke. He found himself unable to proceed because of the confusion outside. After he had attempted several times to continue his remarks Senator Gallinger moved an adjournment. Senator Borah was speaking on the reciprocity bill.

Earlier in the day Senator Townsend of Michigan addressed the senate in opposition to the bill. When the senate met Senator Penrose came forward with a proposed agreement for a vote on Canadian reciprocity on July 24 to be followed within a few days by a vote on the farmers' free list bill and the wool bill on definite dates. There was considerable discussion, but finally Senator La Follett objected to the date for the Canadian bill and Senator Smoot objected to fixing a day for a vote on the farmers' free list bill and the wool bill.

The joint resolution for the direct election of United States senators was sent to conference by the senate. The vice president named Messrs. Clark of Wyoming, Nelson of Minnesota and Bacon of Georgia as conferees.

FIGHT ON WATERWAY

Solons Gather at Springfield, Ill., for Another Struggle.

Springfield, Ill., June 28.—Friends and enemies of Governor Deneen in politics gathered at the statehouse for another battle over the waterway issue in the special session of the legislature. It was predicted that the governor would suffer another defeat.

There were before the senate on second reading three bills, introduced in the midnight session. One is the original deep waterway bill, another is the water power site measure authorizing the issuance of bonds of $500,000 to conserve sites along the proposed route, and the third calls for an appropriation for the proposed commission.

Course in Firefighting Proposed For Schools

Bay City, June 28.—Lessons in the prevention of fires, recognition of careless acts that may lead to fires, and a study of the tremendous waste caused by fires as a course in the public schools, were proposed yesterday by S. R. Birchard, of this city, president of the State Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents, at the first business session of the association's annual state convention. About 150 local agents from all over the state arrived at noon and last night 200 had registered.

The president's annual address dealt largely with the fire waste problem and his suggestion that fire prevention and fire losses be made a subject of grammar school study was received enthusiastically. Mr. Birchard further declared that while it was not generally known, Ohio had already set aside one day in the year, by law, when school children gave over the entire day to observing "Fire Prevention Day," and that in Nebraska the state warden, without any statutory support, had succeeded in inducing the entire school system of the state to observe a similar day.

In the United States, he said, the annual fire loss was $2.66 per capita, while in Europe it was 33 cents per capita, only one-eighth as much. Fire insurance companies did not reimburse the country at large for these losses; all they did was collect from the community at large to reimburse the individual; the loss was pure waste with no salvage.

The total fire losses in the United States last year were $234,000,000, and of this amount easily 50 per cent was preventable. Following the business session the agents were taken on special cars to Venona beach where they were entertained with a banquet, theatre party, launch rides, etc.

The convention will close today. Petoskey wants the next meeting, as do Flint, Kalamazoo and Lansing.

CAVE-IN WRECKS GRAVES

Headstones Broken and Coffins Are Torn Asunder.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 28.—Torn open by a violent subsidence of the surface over old mine workings which have caved in, the graves of some 300 dead at the St. Vincent De Paul and the Polish Catholic cemeteries at Plymouth were badly damaged.

Headstones were broken and shaken down, plot fences were wrecked, the coffins in the graves were torn asunder and some of the graves dropped as much as seven or eight feet below the surface.

Grand Jury Frees Slayer. Galesburg, Ill., June 28.—Louis Rivas, who killed Rafael Valousi a week ago, was freed by the grand jury.

ST. LUKE'S PUPILS ASSEMBLE FOR BIG ANNUAL PICNIC DAY

St. Luke's annual Sunday school picnic and outing took place Tuesday. The children and grown-ups mustered to the number of over one hundred.

The start was made from the church house by automobiles at 10 o'clock sharp, the objective point being Peninsula grove, the grounds leased by Mr. Freeman. The day was spent most enjoyably to everyone. The weather was perfect, the viands were delicious, and the children and grown-up people had a thoroughly delightful time, thanks to the work of the various committees of the Sunday school, headed by Arthur Sullivan.

The committees were under many obligations to the owners of automobiles for placing their cars at the disposal of the Sunday school, both for the journey to the grove and the return journey back. Among these were D. L. Quirk, Jr., E. C. Cornwell, M. M. Read, Mrs. C. H. Roberts, John G. Haviland, Miss Harlet Wortley, Charles Ferrier and W. W. Worden.

The Sunday school especially wishes to thank Mr. Freeman for the many and generous courtesies during the day and in the use of the grounds, tables and boats and indeed everything that he could place at the service of the Sunday school.

BASE BALL PRESIDENT SUSPENDED FROM PARK

Saginaw, Mich., June 28.—President A. S. Burkart of the Saginaw Southern league club received notice Tuesday from President James P. Bowen, of a ten days' suspension from entering any ball park of the association for the part he is alleged to have taken Monday afternoon, during the game between Lansing and Saginaw. President Bowen was in Bay City and a statement could not be secured from him.

When the club president heard of the league executive's action, he went clear out of sight, and threatened to do most anything, but cooler heads prevailed upon him to remain away from the park, and not cause a scene. He decided to abide by President Bowen's ruling. Mr. Burkart said last night that he was never more quiet at a game in his life Monday, in fact, he didn't "have a how-do-you-do" for anyone but that the entire trouble was caused by a man named Miller, from Flint.

Madden was sentenced to fifteen years in the state institution, having been convicted on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. He was released on parole several months ago.

Drowned While Bathing. Lansing, Mich., June 28.—Jerry Quick, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Quick, was drowned in Grand river while in bathing. He was unable to swim, and several companions who were some distance away could not reach him in time to save his life.

Scows Hit Rock and Sink. Calumet, Mich., June 28.—Two large scows owned by Joseph Croze, of Houghton and used by Powell & Mitchell on their breakwater contract at Portage lake ship canal for transporting rock from Agate harbor, ran on a rock and sank.

Fire in Candy Factory. Kalamazoo, Mich., June 28.—Fire in the buildings of the Hanselman Candy Manufacturing company did damage approximating $175,000. Several girls employed in the factory had narrow escapes.

Storage Warehouses Burn. Jackson, Mich., June 28.—Two warehouses of the Jackson Transfer and Storage company were destroyed by a fire of unknown origin. The loss will approximate $100,000.

PROPHET SMITH IN SUGAR PROBE

Head of Mormon Church before Hardwick Committee.

AGED MAN A GOOD WITNESS

Declares that His Church Is Not "Rolling in Wealth" and Tells Why He Likes Henry O. Havemeyer.

Washington, June 28.—Joseph F. Smith, the venerable president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, was the principal witness at the hearing of the Hardwick sugar investigating committee.

His presence attracted a larger crowd than had been seen in the committee room since the inquiry began. Many women were present. They eyed the prophet curiously as he entered the committee room and crowded closely around him as he told the story of the relations of the Mormon church with the sugar trust.

Propbet Joseph is seventy-three years of age. He is tall, spare of figure, has keen blue eyes and, like the prophets of old, wears a beard that falls toward the waist line. He stepped briskly into the committee room and when called to the stand responded with a smile.

Six years ago Propbet Smith appeared before the senate committee on privileges and elections. At that time he spoke as a witness in behalf of Reed Smoot, an apostle of the church, whose right to occupy a seat in the senate was questioned. On that occasion "the first president" of the Mormon church told all about that organization and entered into a discussion of his domestic affairs, admitting that he had five wives and a good many children.

Several of the Mormon brethren accompanied the prophet at the present hearing. They were Apostle Smoot, Bishops Charles N. Nibley and Thomas R. Cutler, Representative Joseph Howell, the only Mormon in the house, and R. W. Young, a grandson of Brigham Young.

"The first president" proved a good witness. He expressed surprise when members of the committee gave the impression that the Mormon church is rolling in wealth, declaring that this is a mistaken notion, that they really had been in financial straits on several occasions and had had to borrow. The prophet objected to having H. O. Havemeyer characterized as "an industrial pirate," declaring that on the contrary he had been a "benefactor" to the Mormons.

Bishop Nibley followed the prophet on the stand. The bishop proved a jovial witness. Representative Sulzer interrogated him about conditions in Utah.

"If the farmers there," observed Mr. Sulzer, "quit raising sugar beets they could raise something else, couldn't they?"

"Oh, yes," replied the witness. "They raise corn in Kansas and sometimes they raise something else."

STANDARD OIL MEETS

Big Monopoly Working on Plan for Reorganization.

John D. Rockefeller Turns Up at New York City Offices, Which He Seldom Visits.

New York, June 28.—John D. Rockefeller, who came back from Cleveland ostensibly to see the putting through of a new road from his place at Tarrytown, turned up at the offices of the Standard Oil company, 26 Broadway.

He attended meetings, which had to do with the reorganization of the company in compliance with the decision of the supreme court. The plan has not been settled yet and, according to a Standard Oil official, will not be ready for publication before September.

Mr. Rockefeller's visit was the first he has made to 26 Broadway in several years. The last time he put in an appearance there was when he gave testimony in the case of the government against the Standard. Besides that visit he has been at the office of the trust only two or three times in the last ten years.

Then he followed the gorge for a mile or more, and rising out of it he flew over Niagara Falls, Ont., and landed in the outskirts of the Canadian city safe and sound. Thousands witnessed the spectacle.

Bay City, Mich., June 28.—Floyd W. Fray, of West Branch, and Miss Blanche Kaltz, clerk in the offices of County Clerk Smith, of Ogemaw county, came to Bay City Tuesday night and were wedded at police headquarters, the nearest available place, after they had secured a justice of the peace. The young people, who are popular in West Branch, slipped away Tuesday afternoon desirous of being wedded secretly. Here they met a friend who aided them in finding a justice and impressed a newspaper man as a witness to the ceremony. The young couple intend to keep their wedding quiet for a month.

RED PEPPER IN CHURCH ROW

Congregationalists and Mormons Battle Over Sale of Structure.

Lansing, Mich., June 28.—Red pepper was thrown about and a shotgun was aggressively displayed in a riot among members of the Mayflower Congregational church and adherents of the Latter Day Saints. The former attempted to tear down an old church they had sold to the other congregation, and the latter drove off the invaders after a portion of the front of the structure had been torn away. After the police restored order some of the Latter Day Saints applied for a court injunction to prevent further attacks on their property.

The Congregationalists claim the property was sold with the understanding that the building would be removed to another locality. The trouble began when it was reported that the new owners of the church would keep it in its present location, opposite the new Congregational church.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS GOOD GAIN OVER PREVIOUS YEAR

Superintendent W. B. Arbaugh has completed the summing up of the school census and, with the exception of one ward, the third, the findings show a gratifying increase of numbers.

The figures for 1910 and 1911 are both given below.

	1910	1911
First ward	387	392
Second ward	230	260
Third ward	358	338
Fourth ward	172	197
Fifth ward	342	351
Country	70	70

Total 1559 1608

The ward which exhibits the greatest increase is the second, the gain there being 30. The fourth comes next with 25, while in the fifth there is an increase of 9 and in the first of 5. The only ward which has lost is the third, which shows a loss of 20. The total gain is 49. The twenty days just preceding the fifth day of June were consumed in the taking of the census. Last year the money which was received by the school district amounted to eight dollars per capita.

D. J. & C. WORK ON BRIDGE IS HELD UP FOR INVESTIGATION

Spile-driving underneath the Congress street bridge has suddenly been arrested, and Congress street, which the D. J. & C. had summarily closed to traffic, has been opened again. This is because of an injunction which was applied for last evening and which Judge Kinne issued, halting all proceedings on the part of the D. J. & C. until they should come forward with explanations as to what course they are intending to pursue and what are their ultimate aims. These questions they will probably answer in the circuit court.

The action of the mayor was taken when the nature and amount of the material assembled at the bridge were observed. Ostensibly, the D. J. & C. were engaged in reinforcing the structure from beneath and were also about to replank the roadway, in accordance with the instructions given by the railway commission when the bridge was inspected this spring. But their proceedings looked remarkably as though they were in the way of building a bridge of their own across the spiles they were so industriously driving in the river. If so, the company would naturally feel an indifference towards the project of helping to build a new bridge for Ypsilanti and, what is more significant, an independence would be theirs which would be embarrassing to the city. Another point which the city resents is that the D. J. & C. people did not ask permission of the authorities before closing the street to traffic and opening up operations at the bridge.

The injunction was granted on the TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

strength of the franchise provisions. The franchise states that when the bridge should need repairing or need rebuilding that the electric railway company would share half the expense. This provision the trolley people seem inclined to ignore. If the trolley company were to build here a bridge sufficient for their needs alone, it would transgress another portion of the agreement, which demands that it shall be a suitable one.

The injunction was served just in time, as very soon the spiles would have been driven entirely across the river. The following excerpts are taken from the city charter:

Ordinance 68, City of Ypsilanti, Feb. 8, 1898. In consideration of said extension, the Ann Arbor & Ypsilanti Electric R. R. Company, present owners by assignment of the aforesaid ordinance, and the rights and privileges granted thereby, shall strengthen, maintain and widen where necessary, as directed by the Common Council, at said electric railroad company's expense, whatsoever bridge or viaduct shall be occupied by its tracks under the terms of a grant contained in ordinance 62, as extended. And in event any bridge traversed by the tracks of said railway becomes unfit for further travel, and required renewal, the cost of such renewal shall be borne equally by the city of Ypsilanti and said Ann Arbor & Ypsilanti Electric Railroad company, its successors and assigns.

Record of Council proceedings for the years May 17, 1898 to May, 1900. Report of committee of the council to the council of Ypsilanti, April 21, 1898.

"We recommend that the right be granted said railway company to cross the bridge upon the following conditions: First, that yearly permits be granted said railway company to cross this bridge as it is under the conditions of the franchise, the first term to commence September 1 next and continue yearly at the option of the Common Council. If the Council deem a new bridge necessary at any time, they must give the railway company 90 days' notice before the end of any one year. Third, The railway company is to strengthen and repair at their own expense, also to repair or rebuild abutments at their own expense, under the direction of committee on bridges."

The Press tried repeatedly to secure a statement from the D. J. & C. people today, so as to state their side of the question fairly and frankly. One official was out of the city and it was stated at the office that affairs dealing with construction work were wholly under the jurisdiction of people who live out of town.

CLEVER FEATURES IN THE FESTIVITIES FOR U. OF M. GRADS

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 28.—In the open air theater erected on the campus for the Ben Greet players, the senior lits held forth in their class day exercises Tuesday.

Following a selection from Fischer's University band, the affair was opened by the address of Class President Arthur Curtis of Flint, who spoke of the close personal relationships engendered in a college community. Tracing the growth of ideas in the class since its first year, he appealed to his schoolmates to cherish these ideals in the future.

That girls like co-education was revealed in the class history read by Sarah Sutherland of Lansing. Although inclined to regard a man as a natural enemy, the members of 1911 soon learned the contrary.

A LITTLE REGULATION NEEDED.

The city has made a wise investment in public parks and in some outdoor gymnasium apparatus for use in the parks. Our observation is, however, that some sort of regulation as to the use of this apparatus should be forthcoming. There are always a few—and we are pleased to observe that they are usually in the minority—who are selfish and forgetful and thoughtless and careless of the rights of others. It is the big strong boy in school whose ideal is to be a bully. The girls are not often open to similar criticism.

But there is almost always to be found one or more strong boys who think that might makes right. They are tempted to monopolize for themselves public property, which is purchased and paid for by the public at large for the public at large. Take the out-door gymnasium apparatus as an example. It is not the big strong, muscular boy, who has the health and strength already who primarily needs the out-door gymnasium. The city is interested in developing the strong able-bodied citizens out of the boys and girls, and the weaker ones are most in need of the exercise which these out-door sports provide. They, then, should at least be secured in their equal chance to enjoy these privileges which the city supplies, and, for the sake of the boy with the bully instinct, he should be restrained, in order that he may not develop a tendency and a temperament which will cause him humiliation and chagrin a little farther on, because he has failed to cultivate those finer sensibilities which comprise so large a part of the true gentleman, and it ever requires more heroism to be a gentleman than to be a bully.

The Ypsilanti postoffice inaugurated a very sensible service at the time of the G. A. R. encampment. The liberal furnishing of comfortable seats was greatly appreciated by a great many people, and the placing of a round table in the most prominent and easily accessible corner of the postoffice, supplied with pen and ink, was a commendable feature, and we are pleased to note that it is being continued. The postoffice has ever been looked upon as all of the people's rightful place, and these little conveniences we are sure will be appreciated by an increasing number. It makes a handy place to address an envelope or write the envelope or a souvenir card, and it enables the writer to rest the while.

MAKE FAST TIME ON SKATES

French Engineer's Invention Permits of Speed of Over Thirty Miles an Hour.

A new form of roller skate, the invention of M. Louis Marchand, a young French engineer, will shortly be seen on this side, a large quantity of them having been imported for the present season.

These skates, which resemble nothing more than miniature bicycles, weigh 25 pounds each, and work automatically. They have thick pneumatic tires and the wheels, of which there are two on each skate, are 12 inches in diameter.

Thirty miles an hour can easily be made by an inexperienced skater with these skates. The skate is clamped to the shoe, and when the foot is raised a spring is automatically wound up around a specially constructed gear attached to the rear wheel.

When the foot is put to the ground the pressure releases the spring, unwinds the gear, and revolves the rear wheel at a great rate. Nearly 900 revolutions a minute are thus produced.

PASTURING ALFALFA.

Three years ago a portion of field No. 5 on the college farm was seeded to alfalfa, with a slight sprinkling of orchard grass and a clover in addition. The part of the field that seeded consisted of a gravelly slope which was inclined to wash badly. The stand produced represented the three crops about in the proportion of 1 to 2 to 3. The alfalfa was cut for hay the second year, while the third year part was pastured and part made into hay. The yields of hay from the first cutting were enormous, the orchard grass aiding materially in the curing and keeping in the mow. Second cuttings consisted almost entirely of alfalfa. This year a large percentage of the alfalfa is missing where the mixture was pastured closely and persistently by calves last summer and in its place there seems to be a large amount of June grass. The percentage of orchard grass seems to be unchanged. Directly across the fence, where the crop was not pastured, the proportion of alfalfa remains undiminished. As a general rule alfalfa grown in Michigan is too valuable as a winter forage to abuse or injure by pasturing. R. S. SHAW.

TIMESAVING IN HARVESTING THE HAY CROP.

By R. J. BALDWIN.

OF THE MICHIGAN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

THE haymaking season is usually a strenuous time in Michigan during which men are in great demand and farmers work long hours to save the crop. Improved machinery has done much, but more can be done on the farm itself to relieve the season of its rush and worry. An effort should be made early to have all machinery, mowers, rakes and other equipments in first-class shape before the haying begins. A neglected break such as loader slats, mower sections or pulleys might easily cause delay, meaning damage to tons of hay.

The ease with which a crop of hay can be removed depends greatly upon the surface of the field, the places, abrupt ditches and furrows not only foil machinery, but make it impossible to draw large loads easily and safely. If a lever is used in preparing a field for grain which is to be seeded for the next year, the loader and side rake will work enough easier to pay the expense of the operation. Special attention should be given the end of the field nearest the barn where the loads are finished, because any unevenness there will cause the wagon to go to the barn not fully loaded. Fewer men are required in a level field because hay can be cut in long strips and windrows made straight, making it possible for a good team to load the loads without a driver. It takes very little more time to load a ton than it does a "jag," and the farm lane should be so graded that it is as easy to take the one to the barn as the other.

The illustrations in this article were taken on a level forty-acre field. The surface was such that a six-foot mower worked easily and a moderate sized team handled large loads without any trouble. The work was all done by two men, one man doing most of the loading alone, while the other took care of the mowing and raking.

During hot weather when flies are troublesome, it pays to let the calves stay inside all day and let them run in the yards or pastures at night.

SPORTING NEWS

DAYS OF BUNTING ARE OVER, SAYS COBB.

Tyrus Raymond Cobb says the days of bunting are over in the big league. The lively ball is responsible. It is practically impossible, he says, to beat out a bunt now, and it's always unsafe to try. The ball is so lively that contact with it ever so lightly sends it hurtling to an infielder.

The lively ball also makes it harder on both in and out fielders, he thinks. It is harder to judge a fly ball now than before, and the speed of the infield hits frequently handcuffs the fielder, with the result that the runner is safe.

MATTY SAVING HIS ARM.

Giants' Star Pitcher Employing Methods That Keep Fielders Busy.

Christy Mathewson, the great twirler of the New York Nationals, is saving his mighty right arm. As he grows older Sir Christopher realizes that the time is approaching when he will be compelled to retire. For that reason he doesn't use great speed at all times, but employs methods that keep his fielders busy. It is only when he finds himself in tight places that Matty puts smoke on the ball to bowl over the opposing batsmen.

Head work rather than brute strength is the secret of Mathewson's pitching this season. His prestige remains incomparable, and the moment he appears on the mound the Giants' rivals seem to know they are up against a hard proposition.

CALLAHAN'S GREAT RECORD.

Career of Chicago White Sox Outfielder Has No Duplicate in Baseball.

Jimmy Callahan's record probably has no duplicate in baseball history. Callahan was hardly a youngster when he quit Comiskey some five or six years ago, and yet after so long a lay-off he is back, batting nearly .300 and is ninth among the base runners. Nor does Callahan appear to be a flash in the pan. He improves, in fact, as the season progresses. When Callahan went into training with the Chicago White Sox last spring the move was suspected of being merely preliminary to slipping Callahan into Duffy's shoes. But this was a mistaken idea. Callahan went out and made good on his own hook and is today one of the most valuable outfielders in the American league.

Johnson Not Showing His Best Form. "Walter Johnson is nothing like the pitcher he was last year," complains a Washington critic. "Physical weakness is keeping him from showing his best form."

DIAMOND SQUIBS

"Too many pitchers spoil the game," says Silk O'Loughlin. "Let the twirler stay in until the end."

To prove his slides, spikes first, are legal Ty Cobb invites his critics to take pictures of his efforts to reach base.

The real name of Ping Bodie, the White Sox fence buster, turns out to be Francisco Sanguineta Pizola. No wonder he can hit.

President Somers of Cleveland announces he will send Outfielder Jackson to "college." The great player can scarcely read and write.

Tyrus Raymond Cobb is batting .434. Incidentally the Georgia "peach" is leading the American league in batting, extra base hitting, run getting and base stealing.

GOOD BASEBALL PILOTS ARE VERY SCARCE.

Why can't a baseball club get a winning manager? Right under your nose is the answer: Why don't scouts find star players?

The reply is that they're both too scarce. Mr. Somers, president of the Cleveland club, has set himself the task of getting for the Naps a "manager who will be a fixture like Clarke, Chance, McGraw, Mack or Jennings."

But Mr. Somers ought by this time to realize that Jacks, McGraws, Chances and the like do not grow on lilac bushes any more than star players can be picked off strawberry plants.

Cleveland has had several managers in its time as an American league club—McAleer, Armour, Lajoie and McGuire. And then look at the kaleidoscope history of the Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Washington, Boston and other team managements. Read there why first class managers cannot be had.

They are too rare.

JOHNSON'S SPEED MISSING.

Famous Pitcher of Washington Is Not Showing Up Well.

Walter Johnson of the Washingtons is nothing like the pitcher he was last year. He neither looks nor pitches as he did during the campaign of 1910, nor is he apt to until he recovers his vitality. His recent sickness has left him weak, and he shows it in his work.

That terrific speed which made Johnson a great pitcher is not apparent this season. His work is only ordinary these days, and he is being hit harder than he ever was during the former three seasons he has been a member of the Washington team.

He may show a flash now and then, but that consistent effectiveness which made him famous is lacking, and it might be good policy to allow him several weeks' rest.

The work that Johnson is now doing is forced, and a pitcher who forces himself is always in danger of injuring his arm, and it is against such a calamity that McAleer should guard himself and his club.

NERVES VERSUS NERVE.

American Coach Likes the Athlete With Imagination.

One of the best football and baseball coaches in the country recently stated that he would rather have his men nervous than cold.

"The combination," said he, "is too much for most men, but nervousness in itself is not a drawback, to my mind. I like athletes with imagination and temperament. It is their imagination that gives them stage fright, but it is also their imagination that ultimately leads them to do almost the impossible when the great test comes. It is of especial value in games in which the men come into physical contact, like football, baseball, basketball and lacrosse. The first contact with the player of the opposing team usually settles the stage fright unless the man is hopeless, and after that he has his 'nerve,' not his nerves, to fall back upon."

CHINAMAN GETS BIG HONOR.

Mongolian Athlete Given Place on All American Soccer Team.

Yale's great Chinese player, Tann, has been selected as left back in the All American soccer football team, which has been selected by the Intercollegiate league committee. Haverford, winner of the championship for 1911 after a tie with Harvard, is named for three of the positions, those of right halfback center halfback and outside left. Tann played brilliantly in all the games he took part in this year.

Stage Fright Affects Youngsters.

New players sometimes do badly at the start from pure stage fright. Arthur Irwin tells of a rattled player who came under his notice when he was coaching Pennsylvania. Penn had a game on with the Phillies and the player booted everything which came his way. "What's the matter?" asked Irwin after the game. "Couldn't you see them?" "Say, coach," was the reply, "I don't even remember putting on my uniform."

BASEBALL QUIPS

American league pitchers are complaining about going into the box "cold." To save time Ban Johnson says they can't pitch five balls to "warm up."

Ty Cobb's young brother Paul has been signed by the Washington team for next season. He is batting over .300 for Lincoln in the Western league. He is also improving in his fielding.

"Give me hitters and pitchers and I'll have a winning team," says Manager Duffy of the White Sox. Which is a good deal like saying, Give me a winning team and I'll have a winning team.

Speaking of the cork center ball, Neal Ball says: "It comes off the ground like a billiard ball taking English off the rail. I don't exaggerate when I tell you I've had the ball come at me so fast that I didn't have time to get down to it. Don't you see the troubles even the outfielders are having with bounding balls?"

M'GRAW LIKES NERVOUS BALL TOSSERS.

"I like a nervous ball player rather than a cold, indifferent one," says Manager McGraw of the New York Giants.

"The combination is too much for most men, but nervousness is not a drawback. I like athletes with temperament. It is imagination that ultimately leads them to do almost the impossible when the great test comes. It is of especial value in games in which the men come into physical contact, like baseball, football and lacrosse. The first contact with the player of the opposing team usually settles the stage fright unless the man is hopeless, and after that he has his nerve, not his nerves, to fall back upon."

NEW BALL CHANGED PITCHING

Strike Out Twirler Only One Who Is Now Successful.

The strikeout pitchers continue to be the winners, and they are the only boys who can make good with the lively ball. Amos Rusie, were he in the game again, would be a king, for Amos always threw for the third strike and barreled a lot of them. So did Tim Keefe, who maintained that you were pretty sure of your man when he missed three and there was a reliable catcher. If he hit it somebody might wobble in the field, so it was safest to collect the guys on strikes. John Clarkson, per contra, always worked for his field, and John would get the stuffing beat out of him this summer.

The heady pitcher who lays them over and trusts to his support is up a tree this year. Somebody is always apt to whack one too hard for the support to get under it. It takes a man who fans them to win, because when they fan they don't even advance any one who may be on the bases.

Young Alexander leads them all in winning games, and he also leads them all in fanning batters. Keefe of the Reds, who has the best showing so far, has struck out something like thirty-seven folks in seven full games, and time after time those strikeouts have saved his bacon.

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try it Free

Simple way for any family to retain the good health of all its members

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer.
That is "How can I cure my constipation?"
Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels, has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the best claim to attention from constituted people.
Its success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting curation. Among its strongest supporters are Mr.
John Graveline of 38 Milwaukee Ave.,
Detroit, Mich., Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and thousands of others. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor.
Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr.
W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building,
Monticello, Ill.

CLEVER FEATURES

"There was a Michigan man for each one of us," said Miss Sutherland, "only we had to learn we couldn't be selfish and we couldn't be foolish. With this in mind, we say 'co-education forever.'"

"For Need of a Prophet," was the title of the class poem read by Ralph Block of Sioux City, Iowa. Block was winner of the Field poetry prize of $100 this year, and his poem for the occasion met with a warm reception from his hearers. In the class prophecy read by D. Brown of East Lansing, is realized the seniors are bound to startle the world by their extraordinary achievements. Two of the best known athletes in America, Ralph Craig and J. Horner, are, according to Miss Brown, destined to leave the track and startle future generations by their record-smashing performance in aeroplaning. T. H. Black, Ann Arbor, a former varsity debater, delivered the class day oration, "The Parting Ways." He made a strong plea for men of decision and a sense of duty to solve the social problems with which the college graduate of today is confronted.

"We must not look for our reward in material things," he said. "The more I study the life of Abraham Lincoln, the more I wonder what the condition of the United States treasury would be had the great president been paid for the services he rendered his country."

The most formal of all the commencement week festivities, the senior reception was held last night in Barbour gym., which had been transformed by green boughs, ferns and asparagus into a bower of green for the occasion. Two hundred and fifty seniors danced from 8:30 till nearly 3 this morning, to the strains of Fischer's orchestra.

There were many beautiful and startling electrical effects. Dr. James B. Angell, President Hutchins, Dean Jordan and the faculty and their wives were in the receiving line, with the chairman of the committee, O. Carpenter of Port Huron.

Many old grads are in the city for alumni day. Twelve of the class of '61 are already here, and as the fiftieth year class are attracting the greatest amount of attention on the campus, though it's the 1910 laws that are making the most amount of noise.

Washington, June 28.—The abstract of the condition of the national banks of Michigan, exclusive of Detroit, at the close of business June 7, as reported to the comptroller of the currency with 16.47 per cent on March 7. Loans and discounts show a decrease from $65,827,471 to $65,763,856; gold coin an increase from $2,327,470 to $2,463,881, lawful money reserve an increase from $5,978,245 to $6,362,978 and individual deposits an increase from $80,492,635 to $82,180,468.

New System Illegally Adopted.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 28.—The present status of the good roads situation in Kent county is declared illegal by Prosecuting Attorney Brown. He says the district system should first have been voted out of existence before a vote was taken on the adoption of the county system. Consequently the city of Grand Rapids and the six townships forming with it the good roads district of Grand Rapids are still under the district system, while the rest of the townships are under the county system recently adopted.

Accuses Former Neighbor.

Millard, Mich., June 28.—On May 16 Bradley T. Nicholson, a prominent farmer two miles south of town, lost two valuable cattle from the effects of strychnine poisoning.
